Adventure Diva Tours: New Zealand

14-day Adventure Trip & Writing Workshop on New Zealand's Breathtaking South Island

Grab your hiking boots and journal and come explore the South Island with us, diva-style. New Zealand's gorgeous landscape is sure to inspire the writer within, making it the perfect setting for this unique trip that couples the adventurous with the creative.

We'll hike the limestone canyons and lush rainforest of the Inland Pack Track in Punakaiki, sea kayak in Okarito Lagoon with a backdrop of snow-capped mountains, hike in breath-taking Mount Aspiring National Park, enjoy the cultural offerings of Queenstown and Dunedin, explore beautiful Milford Sound by boat, and much more.

These adventures will be combined with a short, daily writing workshop led by renowned travel editor and publisher Ingrid Emerick. No previous writing experience is necessary. Beginning writers, as well as those with more experience, are encouraged to join us. We'll explore the peaks, valleys, and waterways of this amazing land, using our journals as a means to expand and reflect upon our experiences.

Ingrid Emerick has been in book publishing for over fifteen years, most recently as the co-founder of Girl Friday Productions, an editorial consulting and book development service. She was the Associate Publisher and Editorial Director of Seal Press (an imprint of Avalon). She is the co-editor of three published books of travel essays, Gifts of the Wild: A Woman's Book of Adventure, A Woman Alone: Travel Tales from Around the Globe, and Go Your Own Way: Women Travel the World Solo. She also teaches editing and publishing at the University of Washington. An addicted traveler, both on her own and in the company of others, she lives with her husband and two children in Seattle.
